Bikini Peel Expectations

What is Hyper-Friction™?

Hyper-friction™ is known as excessive rubbing in one particular area causing discoloration and inflammation to the skin. Over time this ongoing process deteriorates the epidermis causing skin to become hard and dark. In addition to the normal salt and bacteria in underarm sweat, excessive deodorant application may cause discoloration for some clients prone to fragrance sensitivity.

What level of peeling will my client experience?

After day three there will be some noticeable dryness and minor to major sloughing of the skin.

How many treatments are normally recommended?

We recommend 3 consecutive treatments every 14 days but the results vary from case to case. This will depend on the client's lifestyle and their dedication to Home-care usage.

Should my client receive a waxing treatment before or after?

Waxing should be provided 5-7 days prior to actual treatment. No post-waxing or shaving immediately after treatment due to the possibility of more (PIH) Post Inflammatory Hyperpigmentation. Clients that tend to have sensitive or reactive type skin, should be applying a talc-free powder as maintenance, see Prana SpaCeuticals® Anti-FriXtion Powder to minimize further irritation.

Is it different from a "face peel"?

The idea and application is the same as conducting a facial peel, but the process is different. The objective here is treating Hyper-Friction vs Hyperpigmentation from aging and sun damage. In many cases shedding of the body sometimes takes longer than typical face peeling.

How many layers of Bikini Peel can I apply?

In severe cases we would recommend 3-4 layers. The typical application that is recommended for most clients is 1-2 layers.

Tips of Trade: As all peels that are recommended for layering; apply first layer, wait until completely dry before applying the second layer. Third or any additional layers can be applied immediately with no wait time.

What must my client avoid after the peel treatment?

Clients should abstain from any indoor or outdoor activities that cause friction to the treated area, including intimacy. Try to avoid tight clothing, hot yoga, hot saunas and long durations of hot water submersion. Not following this advice may cause (PIH) Post Inflammatory Hyperpigmentation, which it will make it very difficult to have optimum results.

Why is home-care necessary?

The Home-care system is essential to always obtain optimum results. AHA/BHA Refining Masque is a critical game player for this treatment. Using 3 days post-treatment continues with the brightening effects and inhibits melanin production. Hoo Haa Cleanser helps to digest the dead skin and prevent itching, the Bikini Bottom helps to continue home care brightening effects along with minimizing underarm sweat, the Hoo Haa Lotion moisturizes, hydrates, decreases the itch and continues to brighten, as well as an all over body brightener. Arnica Recovery Gel helps to calm traumatized skin and will assist in the healing process.
